Biblical and Archaeological sources show that in the area of Israelite Tribes east of the Jordan (Gilead and Bashan) once existed Hebrew ethnic groups and polities. These groupings re-appear in similar alignments amongst the settlers of Ireland. They were from the Lost Ten Tribes. See: Judah and Dan in Ireland. The Identity of Iar (Yair) Clarified. See:

Are Lucifer and The Satan actually interchangeable given that in Job Satan appears to be a minister in G-d's court.

Why Did Solomon Take So Many Women?

Different opinion exist on this matter.

The Talmud (Yerushalemi, Sanhedrin h.2) in the name of Rabbi Yose says it was in order to convert them and bring them to know the truth.

Rabbi Nachman from Breslov (1772-1810, Ukraine) said that we learn that Solomon ruled over all peoples of the earth.

By taking foreign women, converting them to the Israelite Religion, and then marrying them Solomon intended to bring the nations they belonged to closer to True Belief. The attempt however backfired.

Did Shadim (translated as "demons") Exist?

Note: The Irish Sidhe. The Irish and Scottish also had a belief in other wordly people. These were known as the Sidhe or "Mound-Dwelling" people. They were sometimes asociated with the Tuatha de Danaan or Tribe of the goddess Dana (or god Dan) whom we identify with the Tribe of Dan. The word "sidhe" means "mound-dwelling" but it could originally have been a form of the Hebrew word "shade" [demon]

Solomon and Demons. Notes of Interest from the sources about Shadim https://hebrewnations.com/articles/bible/shadim.html Extract:

The Commentator Rabbi Yosef Chaim (1835 - 1909, Iraq) also known as the Ben Ish Chai in his work "Benayahu" opined that Solomon used advanced modern scientific principles in his building projects and other matters.

Since the world was not ready for this knowledge at that time he kept it secret and/or cloaked it in other forms.

It may be suggested that the concept of 'shadim' was also employed at times along the same lines.

3. N. Chance Cunningham: Remnants of the Tribe of Asher in Lowland Scotland

Yair,

Good day to you! I wanted to reach out to express my continual gratitude for your works. As the title of this email suggests, I have found some interesting information regarding the Tribe of Asher... in Scotland. Let's put the Scottish Lowlands under the scope and divide this a bit to better understand.

I recently came into possession of a book called: "Studies in Lowlands Scots", written by James Colville and printed in Edinburgh, Scotland, 1909. This book primarily teaches the reader and student about the language of the Lowlands, i.e. "Scots". What I found the most interesting was an aleph-bet chart which had, what James calls, "Phoenician" influence.

Though the Scots language was widely known by the Lowland Clans of Scotland, this language was primarily spoken by the Eastern nations (Clans) found within the Lowlands. When we take into account the Tribe of Asher and their Tribal Lands of Inheritance; we can make an interesting connection, all in the same light, when we take a look at the lands of Ayrshire, Scotland or County Ayr.

Anciently speaking, the Ayrshire area was home to a number of Clans, but was ruled by only a handful of Marquis, Earls, Viscounts, and Barony. These prominent leaders were, as William Robertson wrote in his book called, "Ayrshire: Its History and Historic Families, 1908: the Kennedys, the Montgomeries, the Boyles, the Dukes of Portland, the Marquisate of Bute, the Earldom of Loudoun, the Stairs, the Cunningham Earls of Glencairn, the Boyds, the Cochranes, the Hamiltons, and the Fergussons. All of these Clans, families, are found near the Eastern shores of Ayrshire... all of whom spoke a language that had "phoencian influence".

I believe that based on the evidence in hand, we can determine that Asher was not only in Ireland and Sweden/Norway, but portions of the Tribe of Asher came into favorable contact with, what is now called, Ayrshire.

Obviously, there is a lot more information to be searched out, prayed over, and revealed. We do know that Scotland, as you have so eloquently described and taught, has Jewish roots.

Anyways, I look forward to the continual discussion on the Tribe of Asher! Thanks again for all of your hard work and diligence to our God!

Jacob (aka Israel) Kept the Law of Tithing: Jacob linked his tithing to a Return to the House of his Father. We can do the same.

Genesis (NIV) 28:

18 Early the next morning Jacob took the stone he had placed under his head and set it up as a pillar and poured oil on top of it.

19 He called that place Bethel, though the city used to be called Luz.

20 Then Jacob made a vow, saying, "If God will be with me and will watch over me on this journey I am taking and will give me food to eat and clothes to wear 21 so that I return safely to my father's household, then the LORD will be my God 22 and this stone that I have set up as a pillar will be God's House, and of all that you give me I will give you a tenth."

Malachi 3:

10 Bring all the tithes into the storehouse,

That there may be food in My house,

And try Me now in this,

Says the LORD of hosts,

'If I will not open for you the windows of heaven

And pour out for you such blessing

That there will not be room enough to receive it.

Proverbs 3:

9 Honor the LORD with your wealth

and with the first of all your produce,

10 so your barns will be filled with abundance,

and your vats will burst open with new wine.
